

June 2018 Monthly Catalogue

Welcome to the June 2018 edition of the NHBS Monthly Catalogue, which lists all new titles added to our website in the last month.

This month we can again present you with a varied list of ornithology titles. The University of British Columbia Press will publish the massive Birds of Nunavut 2-volume set in August, which is a first for this area. John Beaufoy will publish A Naturalist's Guide to the Birds of Fraser's Hill (Malaysia) in October, and Jacana will publish Birding in South Africa's National Parks in August. Of more local interest is Shetland Summer Birds and Sutherland Birdlife, both of which are now available. Other than field guides and faunas, we can also offer a new book from Stephen Moss, The Wren: A Short Biography, which is due November from Square Peg. Yale University Press will publish The Empire of the Eagle: An Illustrated Natural History in November, and The Collins Press is publishing To the Ends of the Earth: Ireland's Place in Bird Migration in September. Lastly, we just received stock for the rather magnificent A Bird Guide to the Fields of Experience, Volume 2: East Anglia and Some Rarities 1993-2001: The Private Diaries of Passionate Birdwatcher, which contains sketches and illustrations from the notebooks of the little-known birdwatcher Frank Jarvis.

For those with an interest in mammals we have two forthcoming titles on Bats: Pelagic Publishing's Bat Roosts in Trees: A Guide to Identification and Assessment for Tree-Care and Ecology Professionals, and CSIRO's A Bat's End: The Christmas Island Pipistrelle and Extinction in Australia, both due September. Another CSIRO title is Secret Lives of Carnivorous Marsupials, due August. And then there are two rather splendid photographic books from Scotland: The Red Squirrel: A Future in the Forest and The Lynx and Us, both in stock.

We have a very exciting entomology title this month, Field Guide to the Ladybirds of Britain and Ireland from Bloomsbury, which is due November. Furthermore, we have stock of a new FSC fold-out guide, Guide to Longhorn Beetles of Britain. Firefly Books will publish Beetles: The Natural History and Diversity of Coleoptera in September, and CSIRO will publish A Guide to Native Bees of Australia in August.

For herpetologists we have Twilight of the Angonoka: Biology and Conservation of the World's Rarest Tortoise from NHP Borneo, A Naturalist's Guide to the Frogs of Australia from John Beaufoy, due October, and Amphibians of the Peninsula de Paria: A Pocket Field Guide from Chimaira.

Marine biologists have two new SeaSearch guides from Wild Nature Press to look forward to, Sea Squirts and Sponges of Britain and Ireland and the second edition of The Diver's Guide to Marine Life of Britain and Ireland, both due August. We also have stock of Marine Pictolife Macaronesia from Pictolife, and A Taxonomic Iconography of Living Conidae, Volume 2 from ConchBooks.

We also have a strong list of botany titles this month, starting with Pelagic Publishing's Woodland Survey Handbook: Collecting Data for Conservation in British Woodland, due November, and the 7th edition of Frank Dobson's Lichens: An Illustrated Guide to the British and Irish Species from Richmond Publishing, which is due this month. The BSBI are about to publish a new handbook, Eyebrights of Britain and Ireland, and we have stock of the diminutive Start to Identify Grasses. Of local interest will be Wild Orchids of the Cotswolds, now in stock, and Wild Flowers of the High Weald, due October. Outside of identification guides, we can also announce Birch from Reaktion Books and Darwin's Most Wonderful Plants: Darwin's Botany Today from Profile Books, both of which are due November, and American Eden: David Hosack, Botany, and Medicine in the Garden of the Early Republic, due June from Liveright Publishing Corporation.

To round out June's list, we have a range of books covering different topics. Some of these cover environmental history, such as Timothy Flannery's Europe: A Natural History, due October from Allen Lane, Wild Sea: A History of the Southern Ocean, due June from Newsouth Publishing, and the paperback of Against the Grain: A Deep History of the Earliest States, due September from Yale University Press. Others cover environmental sciences and include Sir Martin Rees's On the Future: Prospects for Humanity from Princeton University Press, and The Anthropocene as a Geological Time Unit: A Guide to the Scientific Evidence and Current Debate from Cambridge University Press, both of which are due November. There is an evolutionary biology title from Oxford University Press, Eyes to See: The Astonishing Variety of Vision in Nature, and an interesting palaeontology title from W.W. Norton, End of the Megafauna: The Fate of the World's Hugest, Fiercest, and Strangest Animals, also both due November. And then we have A Year in British Wildlife: A Month-by-Month Guide to What to See and How to Find It, due August from Bradt, The Natural History of Upper Teesdale, 5th edition, from the Durham Wildlife Trust, of which we have stock now, and two titles from the London Natural History Museum, Life in the Dark, due July, and, last but not least, Wildlife Photographer of the Year, Portfolio 28, due October.

Regarding that last title, we will process standing orders nearer the time of publication. To make sure you never miss a volume in your favourite series, customers are encouraged to contact customer services to set up a standing order. You will then automatically receive new volumes as they become available. Or you can set up a notify-only standing order, so that you can choose whether or not to receive a particular new volume in a series.

As always, if you are looking for a particular title that we do not yet have in our range, or you would like to suggest a title for NHBS to stock, please do get in touch.
